Hi, I'm Miss Nicole, or Just Another Angel, a woman who has left behind several homes, abusive men and a painful past. I'm on this site to help others who are going through the hard times, to tell my story and help others have a better understanding of what to expect when they have a new relationship. Visit Me @ Did you recently start a new relationship and you are feeling confused and unsure of what to expect? You are not the only one who is unsure. Here are some helpful tips to keep in mind when you are in a new relationship: Create your own relationship goals. When you are in a new relationship, you should be setting goals that you would like your new partner to achieve for you. Write them down on a note card or piece of paper. For example, your new boyfriend could set himself goals like: - Find out what you like to do and do it together - Make sure you are being financially supportive and doing what you can to help out - Take walks together - Smile more - Do your best to support each other no matter what. Do things that don't necessarily benefit you, but benefit your partner. - Talk about how to make your partner happy. Think about what makes you happy and that will make him happy. - Keep each other informed of important information. - Take new relationship advice from the internet and your friends. You can check other members profile information here to see how other members have been in a similar situation. This is a great place to get advice and support. - Have fun! Be open to fun activities you would not normally be interested in. The more you can learn about your partner, the more you will be able to get to know him. - Do everything with your new partner. Just like in every relationship you have ever had, you should try new things together. This will help you learn more e79caf774b
