So far I have found two ways to do that, I'm using a Linked-List: The other one is to use a loop and check every message, if it is from the "out-box" then move the message to the "in-box", if it is from the "in-box" then move the message to the "out-box". Which one is better? How to Enable Linked-List mode for ActiveMQ? A: Make use of the QueueConsumer Of course, the loop would be better as its a recursion, but still you can make use of the javax.jms.MessageListener's onMessage method Specifically, you can register a MessageListener for a specific destination within a ListeningContainer Something along the lines of... 6d1f23a050
